Media Release

The Givaudan Foundation has published its 2021 Activity Report

Geneva, 24 March 2022 –The Givaudan Foundation has published its 2021 Activity Report which illustrates how it endeavours to create a positive impact for people and communities and provides an update on its support to initiatives for education, health and environment preservation in communities where Givaudan sources natural ingredients as well as those where Givaudan employees work.

In 2021, the Givaudan Foundation has continued caring for communities and nature around the world by supporting an increasing number of projects in what has remained a challenging global context. As a result of this increase and the diversification of its programmes, the number of its partners has grown and so have the geographical spread of the projects and the diversity of benefits they bring.

In these unpredictable times, mutual trust, focus and flexibility have been its guide, and the Givaudan Foundation has worked hand-in-hand with its partners to ensure that the 67 projects across all regions of the world, from Madagascar to India, Brazil, Lebanon, Thailand, Australia, France or the UK could continue despite the hurdles encountered, keeping their initial objectives in mind and adapting to unavoidable delays.

The Foundation offers a valued space to engage Givaudan employees and the number of volunteers involved in projects grew again this year. They are giving their time and sharing their knowledge and skills with a strong desire to make a difference in their own communities.

Our commitment to communities and to the natural environment echoes the sentiment behind Givaudan's brand identity expressed in its tagline "Human by nature" and we look forward to continuing to walk along the same road in the years to come.

About the Givaudan Foundation

We are a non-profit organisation created by Givaudan in 2013 as a result of the Company's desire to reinforce its commitment towards the communities in which it operates. We initiate and support projects and grant donations to make a difference within the communities where Givaudan sources source natural ingredients as well as in Communities where Givaudan employees work. Our actions are nurtured by the know-how and volunteering of Givaudan people. We work closely with and rely on resources provided by Givaudan to conduct and monitor our projects. We also operate with local partners to ensure the efficient deployment of projects and their relevance for those who are intended to benefit from them.
